FOUR SEASONS PRIVATE RESIDENCES AT 706 MISSION SAN FRANCISCO, THE US

This is the world's largest Four Seasons standalone residence, says its developer 706 Mission Street Co. A total of 146 units are housed in the historic Aronson Building and a new 45-storey tower and feature master baths with a free-standing Victoria & Albert Amiata tub, master bedrooms with huge dressing rooms, and modern kitchens with appliances by Wolf and Sub-Zero. Services include 24-hour concierge, valet parking and a car elevator. A club on the fifth level offers a staffed bar, lounge, private library, fully equipped game room and a gym designed by celebrity personal trainer Harley Pasternak. The building also has an art curator and wine consultant who will design bespoke art and wine programmes for residents.

Price: from US$6 million via 706 Mission Street Co
